THE CERCLA PROCESS: A ROADMAP FOR SITE CLEANUP

CERCLA, commonly known as Superfund, is the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act of 1980. One of the key provisions of the Superfund law is a defined process to clean up contaminated sites. The Navy is performing the clean up on Vieques in accordance with CERCLA.

The CERCLA process is described below. The flow chart on the reverse side shows how Vieques environmental and munitions sites are progressing in the cleanup process. Below is a description of each of the CERCLA stone applicable to Viegues clean up
