RE: Operations and Maintenance Status Report and Long Term Monitoring Reports for the Jet Engine Test Cell (JETC), Naval Air Station Cecil Field, Jacksonville, Florida.

Dear Mr. Sanford:

I have completed my review of the Option Year 1, Fourth Quarter 2007, Operations and Maintenance Status Report for the Air Sparging System at the Jet Engine Test Cell, Naval Air Station Cecil Field, dated May 30, 2007 (received June 1, 2007), prepared and submitted by ESA Environmental Specialists, Inc. I have also completed my review of the October 2008 Quarterly Monitoring Report and 2008 Annual Long Term Monitoring Report for JETC, Naval Air Station Cecil Field, dated December 22, 2008 and April 15, 2009, respectively (received January 6, 2009 and April 17, 2009, respectively), prepared and submitted by Solutions - IES, Inc. The reports are adequate for their intent. I concur with the recommendation to continue quarterly groundwater monitoring.

If you have any concerns regarding this letter, please contact me at (850) 245-8997.

Sincerely,

David P. Grabka, P.G.
