Christina-

Based on our exchange of voice mails, the Navy will not be adding information on next weeks' RAB meeting to the Fact Sheet. A mailer was sent earlier this week to everyone on the RAB distribution list and next weeks' meeting will include the Anomaly Area 3 public meeting. The Fact Sheet has been revised to have your correct telephone number. I appreciate your quick response in the final review.

Thanks-

Hi Marc,

Good day! I reviewed the fact sheet and the format looks very well prepared and aligned. I have two comments:

Page 3, Project Schedule - If this FS is coming out prior to the public/RAB meeting next week 8/19, please include the date/location so that interested community members may attend.

Page 4, Project Contacts - Please update my Phone Number to 714.484.5488

Thank you,

To comply with the Governor's order calling for furloughs, the boards, departments and offices of the California Environmental Protection Agency are closed the first, second third Fridays of every month. I will view your email upon my return on Monday.

I apologize for any inconvenience this may cause.

Sincerely,

BCTeammates-

Attached is the Final Fact Sheet for your final review prior to sending the fact sheet to those on the MCAS EI Toro mailing list. Some minor changes have been made to the fact sheet since it was previously approved by all three regulatory agencies. Jim Callian has been listed as the BEC, a section entitled "Implementation of Sustainability Concepts" has been added, the Landfill Gas section was shortened (to fit the new section), and dates have been changed to reflect current conditions. These sections/changes have been highlighted for your convenience in identifying the text requiring final review. Please look over these text revisions and provide changes, if any, or your approval by COB Tuesday, 11 August 2009. The Navy would like to issue the Final Fact Sheet next week to ensure the information is sent to the public at least a couple weeks prior to beginning construction activities. Thank you in advance for your review.
