SUBJECT: Water Board Response to Comments on the Revised Draft Addendum to the Revised Final Station-Wide Feasibility Study, Site 25, Former NAS Moffett Field, Mountain View

Dear Mr. Weissenborn:

Thank you for your response letter dated December 11, 2006. We agree that the do-not-exceed concentration of 210 μ g/kg for total PCBs in sediments is protective of the ecological receptors at Site 25.

In addition, we have reconsidered and will not require a target value for the final area weighted average concentration for total PCBs. Because an area weighted average concentration of 200 μ g/kg is not significantly different from the do-not-exceed value of 210 μ g/kg, it does not provide additional protective benefit to potential ecological receptors.

We anticipate that the final area weighted average concentration will be less than the do-not-exceed concentration of 210 μ g/kg. However, the final area weighted average concentration for total PCBs should still be calculated and reported at the completion of the final remedy at Site 25. Please provide clarification on how the final area weighted average concentration will be calculated, as the remediated areas should be included.

We look forward to receiving the Final Station-Wide Feasibility Study for Site 25. If you have any questions, you can contact me via phone (510) 622-2401 or email at AFarres@waterboards.ca.gov.

Sincerely,

Agnes Farres
Project Manager
