Rochester 'Fowl Shooting' event Nov. 22

ROCHESTER — On Nov. 22 the Rochester Recreation Department will be hosting a Fowl Shooting contest. The basketball contest will consist of best-of-ten fowl shooting and will have five age categories ranging from 3 to 5, 6 to 8, 9 to 11, 12 to 15, and 16 to 19. The first-place winner in each category will receive — what else? — a turkey.

In addition to the turkeys, other prizes will be awarded throughout the competition. The event is being coordinated by Abby Johnson, program coordinator at the Rochester Recreation Center.

"This is the first year we are having this event, so we're hoping for a good turn out," Ms. Johnson said. "I'm hoping for at least 100 participants."

Admission is $3 at the door with the donation of at least one can of food.
