The Technical Review Committee for the Installation Restoration Program at Naval Air Station Key West

Naval Air Station Key West, Key West, Florida

Fact Sheet Number 3

January 1993

This fact sheet is the third in a series of information releases designed to provide information about environmental cleanup activities at Naval Air Station (NAS) Key West, Florida.

As a part of the Navy's Installation Restoration Program, the Naval Air Station at Key West has established a Technical Review Committee (TRC).

This group, made up of station and local officials as well as federal and state agency representatives, meets regularly to review technical reports and plans for the facility's cleanup.

The TRC also helps to coordinate community relations activities. Because members of the committee are visible and trusted leaders in the community, they are a valuable resource in the Navy's effort to understand and monitor community concern.

Anyone with questions or concerns about the Navy's environmental program is encouraged to contact the public affairs office at the station or any of the TRC members.
