RE: Community Relations Plan
Hazardous Waste Site

Dear Mr. White,

I received a copy of your Installation Restoration Community Involvement Plan after your presentation to the Cantonment Rotary Club on May 27, 1990.

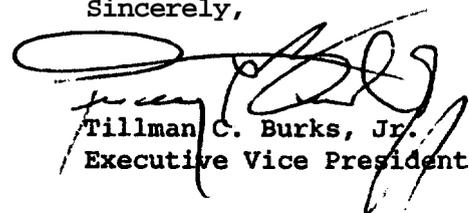

I have reviewed this document and found it very interesting but was surprised to not find the Northwest Florida AGC listed among local organizations and interest groups.

The Associated General Contractors is a major trade association consisting of general contractor and specialty contractor members. At a National, State and Local level, the AGC has been very active with agencies concerned with the Hazardous Waste site locations and removal techniques. The current Chairman of the National AGC Hazardous Waste Committee is Mr. Bill Hunt, President and CEO of Gulf Atlantic Constructors here in Pensacola.

AGC definitely offers an additional source for state of the art removal problems associated with Hazardous Waste sites and would certainly not only want to be informed on the NAS situation but be able to assist in whatever manner possible.

I would trust that your plan could be updated to show the Northwest Florida AGC, Inc. as an interest group and that we would be placed upon your mailing list. Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Tillman C. Burks, Jr.
Executive Vice President
