

ORANGECOUNTY

Westminster Will Give Fired Fire Chief Back Pay RULING

■ Litigation: Former Chief D'Wayne Scott, who sued over his dismissal in 1993, will get $307,000.

retirement fund.

Scott's record will be cleared of the accusations. He will receive retirement benefits as if he had worked for the city until 1995, a higher rate than he would have received leaving in 1993, officials said.

As a mother singing to her preschool child with that child's increased aptitude in science and math.

"In other words, it develops the cognitive skills that increase other disciplines," Gilliam says. "So, you've got the correlation that music isn't just for music's sake.

Scott's attorney, Richard J. Silber, said one of the problems was the city's request that Scott have a psychological examination to determine his fitness for work after some firefighters accused him of alcohol abuse.

Scott refused the test, calling it a gut-level test for music, the what Gilliam calls its "power to transform people's lives."

I wish they could get the same kick I did from "Mr. Holland's Opus" and wonder why the innocuous rock song, "Louie, Louie," which I've heard hundreds of times refused to send firefighters to rioting in Los Angeles in April 1992. He was the only chief in Orange County who would not send assistance on the first night of rioting.

The council overturned his order, and Westminster firefighters did battle fires in Los Angeles.

Continued from B1
could specify when they were first allowed in.

"It was pretty well settled before the lawsuit was settled," Schamel said. "I think people have adjusted."

Some of the young families said renting or buying a mobile home is as a sacred trust to pass along to future generations.

Jim Gilliam manages the Imagination Celebration, a 15-day festival of the arts sponsored by the Orange County Department of Education. He's also a musician and a former classroom teacher who

HUBERS: Parents Win Award From Suspect

Continued from B1

no apparent resources. But Robinson said the Hubers were fully aware of that when they filed the lawsuit last July.

"Based on what this man has done to their daughter and family, they will not rest until their every legal right is exhausted," he said. "If they don't collect a dime, it sends a message to him reminding him of what he has to face."

The Hubers also want to make sure that if Famalaro "has any inclination to benefit or profit from a book or a movie, that this would either deter him against him, or if in fact he did do it, it would prohibit healing process is taking steps toward finality."

Robinson said the Hubers, who were not in court Tuesday, were pleased with the ruling.

"They are satisfied that a court allowed them an opportunity to express their feelings and to [try to] make him respond," Robinson said. "There are very few things that they can do. It's a very frustrating feeling to them. They can't speak with [Famalaro]. [Ione Huber] can't address the man who took her daughter.

"She wants so badly to tell him what she feels. I suspect that this was one way of doing it."

Has it been at least a year since you have had a natural

MARINE CORPS AIR STATION (MCAS) EL TORO PUBLIC NOTICE

RESTORATION ADVISORY BOARD (RAB) MEETING

Wednesday, January 31, 1996

6:30 p.m. - 9:00 p.m.

Irvine City Hall

Conference and Training Center

One Civic Center Plaza

Irvine, California

Topics of discussion at this meeting will include:

Environmental Investigation Status Report; Community Relations Plan for the Installation Restoration Program; Regulatory Agency Comments on the Interim Action Feasibility Study for Regional Groundwater

All members of the interested public are welcome!

Additional information can be obtained by contacting:

Commanding General, AC/S, Environmental IAU

Ms. Charly Wiemert, IRP Department,

MCAS El Toro, P.O. Box 95001

Santa Ana, CA 92709-5001 (714) 726-2840

Wins at community polls

Supporters
in a strong Vietnamese
interests.

ntly Register
TER — Election
over several Viet-age radio stations
ning as Ban Binh ictory for a second of the Vietnamese Southern Califor-

as going to win," ig in his Westmin-
r in the afternoon. ave seen what I've support me."
closed Sunday,
e from the two ri-
worked nonstop ballots. The rest 2 a.m. Tuesday in outpouring of joy
rs and quiet sobs

from the defeated.

Bui, the incumbent president of Free Vietnam party, got 5,264 votes. The opposing Unity party tiny fraction of the region's 300,000 Vietnamese-Americans.

Still, many see the election as a positive step toward unifying the organized to settle dispute

Bui, 56, who was a professional mechanical engineering assistant at Sonoma State University, came to the United States in 1975. He worked as an auto mechanic and his wife through dental school and now owns and runs her dental centers.

He said his immediate goal is to establish a 60- to 100-member advisory council consisting of representatives of Vietnamese organizations to set an agenda for social activities in the community. The non-profit Vietnamese Community of Southern California has no official authority but supporters believe it can become a strong voice representing Vietnamese interests. Since its founding in 1990, it has provided immigrants to help new immigrants assimilate. A monthly newsletter updates them on job and educational opportunities and explains the laws of their new country.

MARINE CORPS AIR STATION (MCAS) EL TORO PUBLIC NOTICE RESTORATION ADVISORY BOARD (RAB) MEETING

Wednesday, January 31, 1996, 6:30 PM - 9:00 PM
IRVINE CITY HALL, CONFERENCE AND TRAINING CENTER ONE CIVIC CENTER PLAZA, IRVINE, CALIFORNIA.

Topics of discussion at this meeting will include:
Environmental Investigation Status Report; Community Relations Plan for the Installation Restoration Program; Regulatory Agency Comments on the Interim Action Feasibility Study for Regional Groundwater

ALL MEMBERS OF THE INTERESTED PUBLIC ARE WELCOME!
Additional information can be obtained by contacting:

Commanding General, AC-S, Environment 1AU
Ms. Charly Wiemer, IRP Department
MCAS El Toro, P.O. Box 95001
Santa Ana, CA 92709-5001, (714) 726-2840

INT: Villa

ondering how people tell which directions from and wondrous actors involved in he said.
ed scientific joure answer, but still estions. Then she periment in which 1 people and asked s the locations of ling on separate chairs. She traced perception to the uter ear. s from behind us nd the outer ear," e sounds from in-ectly at us." ed to give details
periment.
'emely humble,"
rk Principal Dan
oesn't like the ac-

ANA VENEGAS/The Orange County Register

HEAD FOR SCIENCE: Susan Shaw, one of 40 finalists in the Westinghouse Science Talent Search, conducted an experiment on how people determine directions from which sounds come.

es not want to jinx

She has a 4.9 grade-point aver-

"A lot of people have talent, but we have it combined with ouse hono

he has applied to colllege chemistry teacher Ebert, said she has nitted to the best institute in the nation, including Br-andley University, which promise a spot in the Ivy League medical school.

"A high school kid going to medical school," Ebert said. "And they'd be interesting."

The simplicity of Susan's experiment contrasts with the other 1,800 entries in the Westinghouse contest, Ebert said.

"Her project isn't so simple," Ebert said. "You can understand it and so can the judges done with help from a qualified person. It's Susan's project."

Shaw - who said she is a neurologist and Judy, is a homemaker has always been curious about the way things work and succeed and work hard from within her.
"I'm competitive"